Angelo Debarre

Signature MODEL DG-AD1

Few guitarists today can approach the colossal technique and fiery musical stylings of Angelo Debarre. Dell'Arte proudly brings you the signature model that meets the virtuoso's specifications. This model has a slightly larger Favino-style body that many players believe contributes an extra measure of tone and volume. The guitar also features a solid spruce top, mahogany neck, a rosewood fretboard, a mustache bridge and a gold-plated tailpiece with an engraving of Debarre's signature.

Angelo Debarre, born in St. Denis, France, started playing guitar at the age of 8. He was brought up by a family in touch with the manouche (gypsy) tradition, where music is an essential part of life. He founded his first group, "The Angelo Debarre Quintet" in 1984, and began touring the world with gypsy musicians. Since then, he has garnered acclaim throughout the world for his guitar playing and complex compositions. For Debarre, Django Reinhardt's music never loses the dynamism and richness of the past. This Dell'Arte model reflects his love and appreciation for the art of gypsy jazz.

Made For The World To Hear

Robin Nolan

Signature MODEL DG-RN1

The Robin Nolan Signature model has a slightly larger, Favino-style body shape to provide the ultimate in tone, volume and cutting-power. The select, solid Engelmann spruce top features an oval Favino-style soundhole with a rosette of Robin's own design. The back and sides are premium rosewood, and the neck is select maple in a natural finish. The entire guitar features a highly-polished thin gloss finish to ensure both excellent tone and durability.

Robin Nolan, one of the world's leading gypsy jazz guitarists, has also set himself apart by creating his own unique style. For 15 years his band, the Robin Nolan Trio, has traveled the world, getting accolades from people such as the late George Harrison. The Robin Nolan Trio delivers a mix of Django, Latin and swing classics, peppered with stunning and inventive original compositions. This guitar is the model Robin Nolan has popularized through his extensive touring.

DELL'ARTE

The Best Features of Original Designs

Pigalle DG-P1

With original Selmer/Maccaferri guitars reaching astronomical collectors' prices, Dell'Arte has answered the call to players with accurate vintage replicas. The Pigalle has a solid spruce top, rosewood back and sides, a mahogany neck, a rosewood fretboard and mustache bridge, a brass Maccaferri-style tailpiece and an oval-hole soundhole with a Selmer-style rosette. This Django-style model is designed for lead playing and will please anyone who's passionate about gypsy jazz.

- Oval Soundhole with Selmer-style Rosette
- Brass Maccaferri-style Tailpiece
- Smooth Right-Angle Cutaway

Hommage DG-H1

The Hommage features a dramatic D-shaped soundhole, a signature of the earliest Selmer/Maccaferri-style guitars. This unique model has a solid spruce top, rosewood back and sides, a maple neck, a rosewood mustache bridge, a nickel-plated Maccaferri-style tailpiece and a Favino-style rosette. One modern feature that greatly improves playability is the neck/body joint at the 14th fret. The D-hole on this guitar provides great projection and the rosewood fretboard provides incredible playability for fast-paced rhythm playing.

- D-Shaped Soundhole with Favino-style Rosette
- Nickel-Plated Maccaferri-style Tailpiece
- Smooth Right-Angle Cutaway
